- 4) Emery was organized in 1880 from parts of Sanpete, Sevier, and Wasatch counties; later, part of Emery County was taken to form Grand County in 1890 and Carbon County in 1894; therefore, population figures for 1880 and 1890 include residents living in what became Grand and Carbon counties.
- 5) Part of Kane County was annexed to Garfield County between 1890 and 1894; therefore, some of the residents counted in Kane County for 1870, 1880, and 1890 were living in what became Garfield County.
- 6) Grand County was formed from Emery County in 1890; therefore, residents in 1880 are included in the count for Emery County.
- 7) Part of Kane County was annexed to Garfield County between 1890 and 1900; thus Kane County totals for 1870, 1880, and 1890 include people living in what became Garfield County.
- 8) Part of Piute County was taken to form Wayne County in 1892, and part was annexed to Sevier County in 1902; therefore, totals for Piute County in 1870, 1880, 1890, and 1900 include those people residing in what became parts of Wayne and Sevier counties.
- 9) Part of Uintah County was annexed to Duchesne County in 1917, and Daggett County was created from Uintah County in 1918; population figures for 1880, 1890, 1900, and 1910 include people living in those areas that become part of Duchesne County and Daggett County.
- 10) Uintah County was organized in 1880 from part of Wasatch County; 1870 census for Wasatch County therefore includes people living in what became Uintah County. Duchesne County was organized from part of Wasatch County in 1915; Wasatch County census before 1920 therefore includes those living in what became Duchesne County.
